Television for Venezuela

VENEZUELA is to have a complete television service for its capital, Caracas, and the contract for supplying and installing the equipment was signed with this Company in July.

The order includes a 5 kW vision transmitter, 3 kW sound transmitter, associated aerial system and complete studio installation. From this Works will also go a complete mobile outside broadcasting unit with two camera channels and micro-wave links for relaying outside broadcasts back to the studio.

This order will bring into the country approximately £100,000 worth of hard currency. It is similar to the contract signed last year for television equipment for Bogota, capital of the adjoining republic of Colombia.
